Design details are carried through and incorporated into the interior doors, paneling, and cabinetry to create a coherent and harmonised interior.

The extensive collection of specialized artworks is chosen to highlight the luxury setting, a combination of free-standing sculptures, statues set in lit display alcoves, paintings, and wall and floor mounted Asian artefacts all chosen specifically for this property and which complement the high ceilings and hardwood flooring for an opulent experience.

FLOOR PLANS – SINGLE LEVEL LIVING

Experience the comfort, convenience, and luxury of 428 sqm of inside living space arranged on just one level and being able to step out to another 56 sqm of wide partially covered bay view terrace at the same level.

With nothing wasted on stairs, landings and corridors the living and relaxing spaces are very spacious and the bedroom suites benefit from being located in the four corners of the property, offering excellent privacy as well as larger rooms with an abundance of natural light and interesting viewpoints.

The upper level with the magnificent higher view of the bay, the infinity pool, BBQ kitchen and outdoor dining, sun beds and shower is easily reached by outdoor steps that are gently sloped.

OWNERSHIP STRUCTURE

The secure ownership structure at Andara is designed specifically for international buyers who do not want the complication of setting up and managing a Thai company or finding a Thai partner.

Easily transferred, ownership comprises the villa-specific building ownership and the land lease rights as registered and easily verifiable at the Phuket land office, both of which are held within a special purpose transferable off-shore company. Transfer is by transferring the company which is made entirely offshore and free from property transfer fees or taxes in Thailand.

Buyers typically appoint a lawyer in Thailand to inspect and verify the specific ownership registrations at the land office and to oversee the execution of the company transfer, all of which can be completed within 1 month.

This property is sold fully furnished, with existing furniture, fittings and artworks included in the sales price, save for personal items and certain artworks which will be documented.
