With those exquisite sea views to take in, the villa's top floor serves as the main gathering area.

Here, the kitchen, dining and living rooms are set in a bright, open-plan space fronted by floor-to-ceiling windows that open to the terrace. The dining room sits just in front of the kitchen with a teak dining table and eight chairs surrounded by floor-to-ceiling picture windows on three sides allowing for wide sea views. A more informal meal or a snack may be enjoyed at the kitchen's black granite counter, lined with four bar stools. Set between the kitchen—dining room and the bedrooms is the small living area, with an inviting white cotton sofa perfect to curl up on for an afternoon read and a home theatre system.

The terrace that stretches across the front of the villa offers plenty of room to enjoy the tropical breezes, with partial roof cover providing a cooler zone for those needing a break from the afternoon heat. Evening cocktails or afternoon tea may be taken in style on the bamboo Burmese chairs and loveseat set around a coffee table here, followed by a refreshing swim in the 12m infinity pool.

The elegant master bedroom, furnished with a four-poster king-size bed, and its neighbouring twin bedroom both offer sea views and are situated behind the pool, while two king-bedded rooms – also featuring sea-views from their balconies – lie below them on the ground floor. Those who wish to indulge in a peaceful scenic soak will be battling for the master suite, whose bathroom features a free-form tub beside a picture window. The other ensuite bathrooms are fitted with rain showers.

A fifth bedroom (with queen bed) plus the estate's staff quarters are found on the ground floor, accessed by entrances separate from the main villa.
