This allows individual apartments to be split into independent units, which increases the potential for a large rental return for the investor. In addition, the rental potential is increased even more due to the convenient location of properties in the very center of Kamala.

The entrance is through the villa's light, two-story pavilion, which houses the living space, kitchen and two bedrooms upstairs. The seating area on the top floor overlooks the pool. The interior is elegantly decorated in a mix of traditional and modern styles.

This beautiful building is a modern interpretation of traditional Thai style home. The house is designed using cluster formation. An arched style is known for its balance, complexity, and symmetry. The style comes from central Thailand and is inspired by the Ayutthaya dynasty, borrowing designs from the classic architectural themes of a Thai temple.
